

I'm Not OK

Social Code

I'm at your front door
And I don't live here anymore
Cause you're unhappy and now all that's left is an empty bottom drawer

I'm packing boxes
That you left out on the front porch
They're filled with memories and photographs that remind me what I'm dying for

It seems so easy for you to let go of yesterday.

I wish you would just lie and say
I'm not okay
Tell me your heart is breaking
I'm not okay
How can you walk away
Pretending everything's okay
Some things are so hard to fake

I'm not okay-ay-ayyyyy
I'm not okay-ay-ayyyy

And on the inside
In the room where we used to sleep
You rearranged it and fill the empty space underneath your sheets

It seems so easy for you to forget about you and me

I wish you would just lie and say
I'm not okay
Tell me your heart is breaking
I'm not okay
How can you walk away
Pretending everything's okay
Some things are so hard to fake

Give me just one cheer just one sleepless night
Tell me that something is twisting with heartbroken feelings tonight

Just three words is all it would take

I wish you would just lie and say
I'm not okay
Tell me that your heart is breaking
I'm not okay
How can you walk away
Pretending everything's okay
Some things are so hard to fake

I'm not okay-ay-ayyyyy
I'm not okay-ayyayyyyyahhhhh

I wish you would just lie to me.