

Bleak

Social Repose

So this is the end
There's no need to pretend
You don't want me anymore
It just wasn't meant to, be

But we tried and we tried anyway
And we lied to ourselves, so we'd stay
Yeah, we tried and we tried, but are you ok?
No our foundation was built on decay

But I tried my best at saving face
Caving in to give you your needed space
Hanging out, staying in nearly six times a week
Even if we know our future is
Bleak

But we tried and we tried anyway
And we lied to ourselves, so we'd stay
Yeah, we tried and we tried, but are you ok?
No our foundation was built on decay

I'll see you in my dreams and that's where you'll, stay
