

Relevant Elephant

Socratic

Nothing is that big.
Nothing is so small.
We are relevant.
We mean something to someone.
I didn't see them then.
It's too late to meet them now.
I can't help but look at my face
and all it's flaws.
At least the weather is looking better these days.
Everyone is looking better these days.
Maybe in 10 years you'll be as lost as I am now.
I'll still be looking if you'd still like to be found.
But hurry up.
I won't get too old.
I don't want to fade.
I will die so young
I'll miss all the love I could have made.
Even a little rain can cause some annoying traffic.
When you're no longer attractive you'll be annoying too.
Nothing is that big.
Nothing is that small.
We are relevant.
We mean something to someone.
