Sody

Since when do you act like this?
Must be tirin' keepin' up with it
Well, I guess that you've been practicin'
Cuz you always find a way to blend in

You can ink your skin and pretend you like
All your brand-new friends with that fake old smile
And you might fit in for a single night
But I won't be fooled by those big blue eyes

Chameleon
Chameleon

No one knows you like I do (Nobody knows, nobody knows)
And I know that terrifies you, but it's still the truth (It's still the truth)
Mmh, you're the king of peer pressure, the centre of attention
And it's stayed that way, yeah, you're just the same
You seem so sweet, but you're just so two-faced
And you know it, babe

Chameleon (Chameleon, chameleon)
Chameleon (Chameleon, chameleon)

All of your colours are showin' up
And they're lookin' dull
Guess you're not half as invincible as you thought
All of your colours are showin' up
But they're not enough
Guess you're not half as invincible as you thought
All of your colours are showin' up
And they're lookin' dull
Guess you're not half as invincible as you thought
All of your colours are showin' up
But they're not enough
Guess you're not half as invincible as you thought

Chameleon (Chameleon, chameleon)
Chameleon (Chameleon, chameleon)

All of your colours are showin' up
And they're lookin' dull
Guess you're not half as invincible as you thought
All of your colours are showin' up
But they're not enough
Guess you're not half as invincible as you thought (Chameleon, chameleon)
