

Fortune

Soen

Time, it's unveiling every end
What we couldn't comprehend is now avowed
Weak is the soul of every man
And the wicked ones decide the fate of all

And one day I know you'll understand
That your happiness depends on you
Even after all the battles lost
We still stand here believing
Doesn't matter if they know our name
When in darkness we will make it through
To be broken doesn't mean to fall

There's nothing to fear
I'll keep your path clear
As long as we walk
We'll find what is real
And I will become
Your shield and your wall
Unbreakable stone
Just keep yourself near

Cold is the hand that rules the game
And the pieces of the play have no control
Doomed is the heart of every man
That is taking for himself what is for all

And one day I know you'll understand
That your happiness depends on you
Even after all the fights you've lost
You still stand here believing
Doesn't matter if they know your name
When in darkness you will make it through
To be broken doesn't mean to fall

There's nothing to fear
I'll keep your path clear
As long as we walk
We'll find what is real
And I will become
Your shield and your wall
Unbreakable stone
Just keep yourself near
