

I Hope You Know

Sofia Carson

Wakin' up with you on my side of the bed
When you get this close, you know how quiet I get
It's not that I have nothin' to say
It's only 'cause it's too much say when I'm thinkin' about you
Darling, forgive the disconnect 'tween my mouth, my heart, and my head

I hope you know you're
Beautiful in the sunlight
Beautiful in the moonlight
Beautiful in the dark
I hope you know I
Never looked for another
'Cause when we look at each other
Heaven feels like it's right here in this car

I hope you read my mind through that stupid look on my face
If you can see inside, my heart's marked with your name
And I know that I can make a mess of things
But I swear to God, you're the best thing and I'm thinkin' about you
Darling, forgive me when I can't find the words I'm tryin' to say

I hope you know you're
Beautiful in the sunlight
Beautiful in the moonlight
Beautiful in the dark
I hope you know I
Never looked for another
'Cause when we look at each other
Heaven feels like it's right here in this car

I hope you know (Oh)
Oh, I hope you know, oh (Oh)
I hope you know
It's not that I've got nothin' to say
It's only 'cause it's too much say when I'm lookin' at you

I hope you know you're
Beautiful in the sunlight
Beautiful in the moonlight
Beautiful in the dark
I hope you know I
Never looked for another
'Cause when we look at each other
Heaven feels like it's right here in this car

I hope you know
