

Still Love You

Sofia Carson

I could trace the fingerprints you left
Burning in my skin
Here we go again
Didn't think I'd see you here tonight
How long has it been?
Can't shake the feeling

I need you more than I want to
I want you more than I should
And everything that I'm thinking
I'm only thinking of you
'Cause all the love that you promised
I multiplied it by two
And even though you're not honest
I'm here to tell you the truth

I still love you
I still love you
I still love you, oh
I still love you
Tell me you love me too

It's lonely protecting a broken heart (Heart)
It only heals when
You're in my vision
Remember we built castles in the sky
Why did we leave them?
Leave them in pieces?

I need you more than I want to
I want you more than I should
And everything that I'm thinking
I'm only thinking of you
'Cause all the love that you promised
I multiplied it by two
And even though you're not honest
I'm here to tell you the truth

I still love you
I still love you
I still love you, oh
I still love you (You)
Tell me you love me too

Why can't you just stop the hurt?
'Cause I know you hurt
I'm the only one that you want
Why can't you just say the words?
Fine then, I'll go first
You're the only one that I want

I still love you
I still love you
I still love you
I still love you
Just tell me you love me too (Oh)

I need you more than I want to (Stop the hurt 'cause I know you hurt)
I want you more than I should
And everything that I'm thinking
I still love you (I still love you)
'Cause all the love that you promised
(Say the words, I'll go first)
I multiplied it by two
And even though you're not honest
I still love you (I still love you)

I still love you
I still love you
