

Tell me if I'ma mistaken
But you're not in love, am I right?
Things aren't the same since we came here
And we can pick up where we left off
But you're not in love, am I right?

Well I can't say that I can blame ya
The tide has turned since I tried sailing away
And the love we had was enough for two
Not three, oh God, what have we done?

Look in my eyes like the old days
But you're not in love, I'm not blind
You're being calm but you won't say
Since you've been mine you feel hollow
And you're not in love, am I right?

Well we got nothing to gain here
The tide has turned since our sun sailed away
And the love we had was enough for two
Not three, oh God, what have we done?

For you, all, to you
All my love to you
All my love to you
