

The Undying Eye

Soilwork

Deprived of the fundamentals
Those animalistic needs
Became ever more essential
And so it began to feed

Please don't tell me what you're thinking
Let fire rush to my head
We're trapped in a stare
Unblinking
A hivemind of nearly dead

Still locked to the generator
A current without a spark
My mind was the instigator
My flesh longing for the dark

Finally
There's a trembling light
That's fading over me
Silently
We avert our empty gazes
From the sky
And the undying eye

Deprived of the fundamentals
Those animalistic needs

Please don't tell me what you're thinking
Let fire rush to my head
We're trapped in a stare
Unblinking
A hivemind of nearly dead

Still locked to the generator
A current without a spark

Finally
There's a trembling light
That's fading over me
Silently
We avert our empty gazes
From the sky
And the undying eye

Finally
There's a trembling light
That's fading over me
Silently
We avert our empty gazes
From the sky
And the undying eye