

Jump

Soja

I know it's been the longest summer...
Like hotter than the gates of hell
The Lord knows while the steady wind she blows
That it won't always fill your sail
Your heart's been beating like a kick drum:
Four on the floor and into 5, 4, 3, 2...
I know they say that a beating heart ain't broken, but They ain't looked into your eyes

See if you worry 'bout the fall, you will never jump at all
Afraid of something new
But if you make it through the door, I will follow you for sure, and
I will jump with you
I will jump with you

You know I will
I will jump with you
You know I will

We been walking for oh so long, but I still can't seem to get out of here
See me running the whole night through, but still don't seem to be going now here
Used to be something, now feeling more like nothing, an ocean made out of te ars
I see you running telling me to jump in, how many miles can we go from here

See if you worry 'bout the fall, you will never jump at all
Afraid of something new
But if you make it through the door, I will follow you for sure, and
I will jump with you
I will jump with you

You know I will
I will jump with you
You know I will

The harder that you fall
Only just to find your way
You think you've seen it all
And then I jump with you
And when it hits your soul
Calling just to let you know
Don't ever let it go
While them stage lights flashing it's over again
One more beat 'til we're done
We on a one way ticket
With all of our friends
We stay right here forever
So the night may never end

See if you worry 'bout the fall, you will never jump at all
Afraid of something new
I will jump with you

See if you worry 'bout the fall, you will never jump at all

But if you make it through the door, I will follow you for sure, and
I will jump with you
I will jump with you

You know I will
I will jump with you
You know I will
