Tear It Down

Soja

The situation isn't what it was and its never gonna be it again cuz we got nothing prepared for what is coming up when the dollar is the focus of men, and you know all the solutions we don't talk about cause wed rather talk about ourselves right now and if WE are whats killing US we take the form of the storm up ahead, now follow me I've seen the water rising, its rising all around and I've seen those roots, they're ripping and they rip out from the ground and I've seen this world is changing and it's right in front of our face there's something happening here, in this little human race it's coming coming coming on down, down the waters literally rise now it's coming and it's coming on down, down and the (heat) index rise every time around it's coming, it's coming on down, down and we can tear every little thing down and we will, just look around and you can watch us tear it down the situations coming down to this: what matters to us all in the end? And you know total destruction is on the horizon, if you are standing on the out looking in.

and our congress and president never ever mention it, can't even figure out same sex marriages while we kill each other every day, and while we kill our earth in every way, it's coming down.
We've got this love inside us, and we've got this hatred too We've got this battle raging, and we've let the soldiers loose We sit and watch and wonder possible outcomes will what we NEED deep inside become what we WANT before... it's coming coming coming on down, down the waters literally rise now it's coming and its coming on down, down

and the (heat) index rise every time around
it's coming, it's coming on down, down
down, down now tear it right down to the ground we gonna tear it down, down, down now tear it right down to the ground
