

It's one of those nights that my head just can't stop praising
I start to question if I'm truly doing good
'Cause I, I, I wanna make a difference
But sometimes I'm so unsure
If I'll make and you are proud of me
'Cause I won't let me know

It's been a dark and rainy cold November
And my mind is overfilled with blue
In the end, I hope that you remember
That I tried to be the best for you
Be the best for you

I'm overthinking lying sleepless and obsessed
Is there something I missed? Something I can do?
'Cause I, I, I wanna make you feel it
But I don't know where to go
The only thing I truly truly know

It's been a dark and rainy cold November
And my mind is overfilled with blue
In the end, I hope that you remember
That I tried to be the best for you
Be the best for you

Thinking to myself, will they remember
When all is said and nothing's left to prove?
I don't know when my story will be ending
But everything I did
Everything I did was all for you

But it's been a dark and rainy cold November
It's been a dark and rainy cold November

It's been a dark and rainy cold November (cold November)
And my mind is overfilled with blue (filled with blue)
In the end, I hope that you remember (I do)
That I tried to be the best for you (best for you!)

(I tried, I tried)
