

Ghosts

Solence

Something has awakened
Yeah you can feel it in your lungs
Your past has been awaiting
For so long

The moonlight ray
They're on their way
Been waiting on the lock
Now they're here to stay
The card you've played
Will make you pay
Oh well

You have ghosts
You have ghosts
You can feel 'em when they're closing in
You can hear 'em though they haunt within
You have ghosts
You have ghosts
You can feel 'em when they're closing in
You can hear 'em though they haunt within now

A stranger to the silence
A secret buried in your skin
Now facing your own violence
But your shield is only paper thin

The moonlight ray
They're on their way
Been waiting on the lock
Now they're here to stay
The card you've played
Will make them pay
Oh well

You have ghosts
You have ghosts
You can feel 'em when they're closing in
You can hear 'em though they haunt within
You have ghosts
You have ghosts
You can feel 'em when they're closing in
You can hear 'em though they haunt within now

Now the ghost you've for years ignored
Drags you down to the ocean floor
You're giving in
You're giving in
Now the ghosts you've for years ignored
Drags you down to the ocean floor
You're giving in
You're giving in

You have ghosts
You have ghosts
You can feel 'em when they're closing in
You can hear 'em though they haunt within

You have ghosts
You have ghosts
