

Collateral Damage

Solitary Experiments

From the beginning it wasn't clear
Where did it start and why it ended here?
What was the reason and how could we failed
To see this flames of concentrated hate

How can we fight a war without any weapons
against an enemy without remorse?
What can we do to stop their holy intention
before there's nothing to protect, anymore?

Nobody knows their next attack
Hijacking planes or shooting in the back
In every corner a homicide Innocent victims in fire line

How can we fight a war without any weapons
against an enemy without remorse?
What can we do to stop their holy intention
before there's nothing to protect, anymore?

From the beginning it wasn't clear
Where did it start and why it ended here?
What was the reason and how could we failed
To see this flames of concentrated hate

How can we fight a war without any weapons
against an enemy without remorse?
What can we do to stop their holy intention
before there's nothing to protect, anymore?