

Existence

Solitary Experiments

Extinction of the world in which we exist
Infected by the curse of a devil's kiss
Corruption is the highest depravity
But nothing changes our morality

Together we must face our destiny
If you want to find your own identity
Forever bound in the same recurring dream
Alone in the dark, the answer so far:
Who rescue me?

Pollution of the ordinary mind
Inflicted through the evil of mankind
Relentless on advance to eternal fame
Possessed by effects of the kindled flames

Together we must face our destiny
If you want to find your identity
Forever bound in the same recurring dream
Alone in the dark, the answer so far:
Who rescue me?
