

This Broken Heart

Something Corporate

You woke up, in pieces from making these changes and holding the ransom, wont write you an anthem on the outside, im trying, cuz inside, im dying this broken heart was stronger than now i cant stand to part with this

you took me for granted now im changed, you havent it wont be so easy to sell me this feeling this broken heart, was stronger than, the words i never wish yo u meant

cant make this right, you see on my face, that im not gunna be alright, not tonight, you can read all my letters, but that wont mean things are fine
not this time, cuz you gave all way the secrets of you and i

this broken heart, was stronger than,
the words i wish you never meant
this broken heart
