Son Little

You been giving me something but Imma need a little air
You been giving me nothin' but Imma get it somewhere I swear
You been giving me something but Imma need a little air
You been giving me nothin' but Imma get it somewhere I swear

Giving the drummer some for real
Giving the drummer some for living
You could be giving the drummer some
Giving the drummer some, some forgiving
Giving the drummer some forgiving

You been giving me something but Imma need a little air
You been giving me nothin' but Imma get it somewhere I swear
You been giving me something but Imma need a little air
You been giving me nothin' but Imma get it somewhere I swear

Giving the drummer something to feel
Giving the drummer some for living
You could be giving the drummer some
Giving the drummer some, some forgiving
Giving the drummer some forgiving

And if you're the brightest star that shines
Better say them spells just right
The strings that you pull must all be fire
Represent this fly empire
And if we come dancing by
And see them arms getting tired
Well lift up and wave your magic wand
The only thing that's gonna save our lives

You been giving me something but Imma need a little air
You been giving me nothin' but Imma get it somewhere I swear
You been giving me something but Imma need a little air
You been giving me nothin' but Imma get it somewhere I swear
