

I Love You Because It's True

Sondre Lerche

If I convert to you
Will you revert to me?
Our love could forge a self-sustained reality
We'll tell our own damn time
Gaslight each others minds
Sweet confirmation bias-time for you and I

This is the most outrageous gift
That I could give to you
Surrendering to a lover's lies
Insisting that they're true

Oh, is this the way our parents used to live
Let's do the opposite of everything they did
It isn't so hard to do

I love you because it's true

If I reduce myself
You isolate yourself
Our love could thrive against a common enemy

This is the most outrageous thing
I wish I didn't do
Surrendering to a higher truth
That simply isn't true

Oh, is this the way I sometimes I used to live
Let's do the opposite of everything I did
It's so very hard to do
I love you because it's true
