

Ragdoll

Sonia Dada

I loved a ragdoll when I was much younger
But I'd lose that lovin' little doll
Almost all of the time, time, all the time
Now I'm older and I lose my love when I say that he's mine
All mine, mine, all mine
When I say that he's mine

All of my brothers and all of my sisters
We fought with each other all of the time
All of the time, all of the time, all the time
Now I'm older, we lose our love if we say that it's mine
All mine, mine, all mine
When we say that it's mine

There's an emptiness inside of me
In the middle of the night
You don't call my name
Anymore...

There's an emptiness inside of me
In the middle of the night
You don't call my name
Anymore...

You don't call my...
You don't call my name

I loved a ragdoll when I was much younger
But I'd lose that lovin' little doll
Almost all of the time, time, all the time
Now I'm older and I lose my love when I say that he's mine
All mine, he's mine, all mine
He's mine, all mine...

Lover, you don't call me anymore
No more, no more, no more, no more
