

All Of My Soul

Sonohra

Woke up by lights through the window
Hearing your keys locking my door
I realize something I fear
You're gone

Woke up by lights that we know
Hearing your voice left on my phone
I recognize something too near
Tears I taste

And I wanna know how long, how long
I'll spend my life here alone and wait for your call
Cause I can't remember a word
I can't pretend you know
All of my life
All of my soul

Woke up by lights so burning
Making my step out of my door
Open my eyes
Open my mind
I'll find me

And I wanna know how long, how long

I'll spend my life here alone and wait for your call
Cause I can't remember a word
I can't pretend you know
All of my life
All of my soul

You're a shadow in the night
You're a bitter delight
Everything's going to get fixed, I guess
You're a shadow in the night
You're a bitter delight
Everything I'd love to do
Is get back to you

And I wanna know how long, how long
I'll spend my life here alone and wait for your call
Cause I can't remember a word
I can't pretend you know
All of my life
All of my soul
All of my life
All of my soul
