

For Broke

SonReal

My future my premonition always seems to find a purpose
All my highs and lows they take me to another surface
I was 10 trying to find god at the service
Saw him when I saw my daughter made me hella nervous
Success will leave you in the dark with no curtains
People with the most purpose even feeling worthless
I try to keep it real but the truth is Even I lie sometimes

I used to spit that boom bap
Hopping round with a backpack
Rapping about my new snapback
Before that
Me, Dan, Biz, Dane in a hatchback
Bumping my new creations
Always losing my patience
Where the hell would I be if I never came from the basement
Music been my oasis
Facing fears since I was faceless
And this some shit that they will never know
I put it all on the paper and then I let it go

Running running running where you headed though
I'ma get it done I'ma live my life
Running running running where you headed though
Don't you know, know
I went for broke with this
Running running running where you headed though
I'ma get it done I'ma live my life
Running running running where you headed though
Don't you know, know
I went for broke with this

My life's an empty theatre as I sit and watch the screen
I don't predict the ending I'm enjoying every scene
Double down on this so I can't single out a thing
That could mess up all these blessings that been falling on my team
This my final fantasy
Fans, music and family
Questioning my potential
Like question my morality
I got too much resilience
You got too much opinions
You're too concerned with winning
You got too much ceilings
Momma taught me nothing fall right on your lap
My fans put me on their back so I knew I had to snap for 'em
Back and better I took my self to the basics
That's why I mean it when I say it

Running running running where you headed though
I'ma get it done I'ma live my life
Running running running where you headed though
Don't you know, know
I went for broke with this
Running running running where you headed though
I'ma get it done I'ma live my life

Running running running where you headed though
Don't you know, know
I went for broke with this

I went for broke with this
