

I wanna be selfish with you, with you
I can't help it, it's true
Why do I, feel like, I knew you, in another life
You're too much, like right
You're just my, just my type

At first I was tripping on you but
I been sippin' on you and I'm drunk
Off one cup
I might get addicted to you
I'll be your addiction too
And they can't be good

I wanna be selfish with you, with you
I can't help it, it's true
Why do I, feel like, I knew you, in another life
You're too much, like right
You're just my, just my type

When we first met, I had a feeling you're just like the rest
Cause you know, I wear my heart on my chest
And I know you wear a bulletproof vest
But it's the way that you hold me
Release the emotions, I'm holding Don't wanna give it up
I wanna live it up with you

So what you wanna do?
We gone have each other gone
Know you want me all about you
And I love when you blow up my phone
Got you barely chilling with ya crew
Cause I'ma have you at home
Tell all of these girls that you mine
So they better leave you alone

I wanna be selfish with you, with you
I can't help it, it's true
Why do I, feel like, I knew you, in another life
You're too much, like right
You're just my, just my type
