

You & Me

Sonta

When I look at you, I see my person, I ask myself
"Is this love worth it?"

Just you and me, yeah, you and me
That's how it should be
You and me, you and me
You and me, yeah, you and me
That's how it should be
You and me, you and me

Like I said, that's my man and I mean that shit
He look better with me than any other woman he's been with Ain't no secret, better let them know that's my dick
Hoes mad 'cause when they see him, I'm on his lips
This for life, you know you ain't gon' find this twice, no
When I look in your eyes, I love who I chose

When I look at you, I see my person, I ask myself
"Is this love worth it?" (Baby)

Just you and me, yeah, you and me
That's how it should be
You and me, you and me
You and me, yeah, you and me
That's how it should be
You and me, you and me

Yeah, yeah, you know my mama don't even be fucking with you
She only focusing on what you used to do to me
And who you used to be
But they don't know that everything is better now
They don't know that we been talking 'bout settling down
Settling down, baby
You're staying around, babe
'Cause I know my mouth can get reckless (Reckless, reckless)
But you still love me and accept it
And that's why

When I look at you, I see my person, I ask myself (When I see you)
"Is this love worth it?" (Is it worth it, babe?)

Just you and me, yeah, you and me (You and me against the world)
That's how it should be
You and me, you and me
You and me, yeah, you and me (Nobody but us)
That's how it should be
You and me, you and me
