

eyes lock

Sophie Cates

When his eyes lock with hers
Will he forget that I'm on Earth?
Will I suddenly be gone?
From his mind and he'll move on

Oh, I'm trying
Oh, I'm trying

But I still picture him tonight
Walking through that door just right
But then he sees her and he smiles
With the light of love in his eyes

And I'm not right for you
I hear you saying it in a month or two
And I'm trying to ignore it
There's just so much to lose
There's just so much for me to lose

When his eyes lock with hers
Will he forget that I'm on Earth?
Will I suddenly be gone
From his mind and he'll move on?

Now, I'm crying
Now, I'm crying
Now, I'm crying
Now, I'm crying

Cause I'm not right for you
I knew you'd see it in a month or two
And I really try to fight it
But it's always true

I hate having something to lose
