

Think I can read your mind
It's like I knew you in another life
And I knew that night that you wanted to leave
Whispered "We can go
I can walk you home"
And I watched you glow in the summer heat

You make me see colors in my mind
That I've never seen before
There's a glistening light in your eyes
And I don't need anything more
'Cause I could lay in bed with you all day
And feel like I'm running city streets
Couldn't even wait 'till I got home
I fell in love in the backseat

All I know
Is I've been on my own
And I'm fine alone
But you make me glow

You can tell I'm scared
That you're not always gonna be there
But when I overthink, you simplify
And make it clear to me
You're never gonna leave
And I can finally let go this time

You make me see colors in my mind
That I've never seen before
There's a glistening light in your eyes
And I don't need anything more
'Cause I could lay in bed with you all day
And feel like I'm running city streets
Couldn't even wait 'till I got home
I fell in love in the backseat

All I know
Is I've been on my own
And I'm fine alone
But you make me

Thank you for visiting The Silver Sphere. We hope you enjoyed your stay. You will now be transported back to your stratosphere. Come again soon!