

By Chance

Sophie Ellis-Bextor

Take this down
Turn it around
I am water underneath a bridge
So? What do I know?

Getting here must be a privilege
Should say something meaningful
If at all
Just to fill the air

Or, believe I adore you
Love you if I dare
By chance
When I turn out the light

I'm finding the right line
By chance
I could put this to right not in the rest of this lifetime
Let it slide

Always inside
Isn't worth the indecision I hide
So, nowhere to go
Stimulating no illusion

I should say something pivotal
Belittle
How you let me down
Or, believe I adore you

Love me if you dare
By chance
When I turn out the light
I'm finding the right line

By chance
I could put this to right
Not in the rest of this lifetime no, no
Look at you going places

See two faces
I know which to trace
I would be holding my breath but things will stay the same won' t they
Oh, I know
