

Until the Stars Collide

Sophie Ellis-Bextor

You're a page worth turning
I read you like a book
I've reached the final chapter
The story had me hooked
You're so technicolor
One for every day
No chance of predicting
The moods that come your way

Can't release myself, it's true
As you fade into the blue
Fiction is all I'm holding on to

Everybody knows
The demons come and go
To have regrets is only human
But I just can't escape
The memories of mistakes
Round and round instead of moving on

Until the stars collide
Until the stars collide

As the hands keep turning
The words no longer rhyme
As the sands keep falling
We're running out of time
This fiction is all I'm holding on to

Everybody knows
The demons come and go
To have regrets is only human
But I just can't escape
The memory of mistakes
Round and round instead of moving on

It's not over just because we said goodbye
I'll wait until the stars collide
It's not over just because we said goodbye
I'll wait until the stars collide

Until the stars collide
Until the stars collide