

Again

Sorry

I've been breathing in and breathing out
And talking over people loud
Drowning all my sorrows out
I've been breathing in and breathing in
Not sure if it's even working
Talking over people loud
I feel like I'll never be home again

Again
Again
Again

It wasn't neither here or there
It must have been a dream somewhere
The world shone like a chandelier
And I was lost for good
And time will heal or make things worse
But for whatever time is worth
I'll take it to be free

Again
Again
Again
Again

An aeroplane broke the sky
A ship shot on by
I'm not sure if they collided
I lay flat on the line
An aeroplane broke the sky
A ship shot on by
I just lay flat on the line
I just lay flat on the line

Again
Again
Again
Again

I don't know how long it goes on for
Again
