SOUL GLO!

"If you don't understand white supremacy as a global system
Everything you think you understand about history
Our time, and yourself will only confuse you"
First things foremost
At no time ever again will I expect anything aside from the wide spread extinction of Those perpetrators of this contemptible experience of Blackness against a white background
I need no love from that, fuck that, fuck that, fuck that, fuck that

From time to time, I've dreamed of gulping down their blood so gratefully that I choke to death with a smile
So any sense of possession will be ground to dust under my heel
I promise I'll defy that shit for real
There are so few in this wasteland I feel that I can trust Rest in pieces, rest in rust, rest in pieces, rest in rust
Because the world will know these hands
