

The Summoning

Soulfly

I walk the path of divination
Escaped the shackles of subjugation
Labor impunity was divine
A barren land, I leave behind

Broken bones, blood lost
War, drugs is all he learnt

Will you take my soul?
Will you take my world?
I fear no one
The strength I summon

Extermination came of age
Our innocence, tortured and chained
Exploited by your own reflections
Your golden kingdoms, rotting infections

Smoking stone, breach of trust
Big throne, I bleed alone

Will you make me whole?
Will you make me holy?
Angel destroy my wrath
The strength I summon

Deceased, the rifter, the four years rain
Tyrant of fear, carnage are here
The 'richened light doesn't guide us
Your enemies are dead, the future unclear

We loath in hate, execution

Will you take my soul?
Will you take my world?
I fear no one
The strength I summon
