

Missing Wires

Soulwax

I never asked your number
I never saw you through
And I think you're missing wires
Like a self-inflicted wound

And I know you can't believe it
Until it's on the news
All the lovely faces
Short of any clues

We can't dance around the truth

We're just looking for a truce
It's not easy but it's true
What we need is something new

We can't dance around the truth
We're just looking for a truce
It's not easy but it's true
What we need is something new
