

Every Light Has Blown

South

I'll keep a light on
All the rest have the rest have blown
I'll keep your bed warm
And the stillness keeps me
Where'd we go?

Just like you never went away
How strange to meet you here again
Getting younger by the day
In chains conditioned to relate

I would do my best to keep you safe
But the best that I could do is turn away
Heavy expectations what a mess
As we wrestle with ourselves in a decay

Just like you never went away
How strange to meet you here again
Getting younger by the day
In chains conditioned to relate

I'll keep a light on
I'll keep a light on and when you wake I'll give myself
away
I'll keep a light on
