

Floating Away

SpaceMan Zack

I feel like I'm floating away from here to
My dreams from yesterday
I feel like I'm losing my pace for a taste
And a thought of a comfy space
Now all I ever do is just wonder what'll
Make things clear
Wonder why I'm waiting here and I
Sit up while I ponder this place
It's my brain and I lost that shit like
Yesterday

Oh yesterday, it was yesterday
That my world crumbled down never let
In a better place
Yesterday, I remember yesterday
The angels said farewell and the demons
Filled my head again
I know, I know
That I've been following the road that
Will take me from home
Now I show, I show
No signs of regret but I'm sick of putting
On this fucking show
The sun goes down and the darknes rises
Over me
And I lose myself no one can help
Controlling me
Now I ask myself what I've got left
In this life I live?
As I take one step into this dark
Forsaken bliss

I feel like I'm floating away from here to
My dreams from yesterday
I feel like I'm losing my pace for a taste
And a thought of a comfy space
Now all I ever do is just wonder what'll
Make things clear
Wonder why I'm waiting here and I
Sit up while I ponder this place
It's my brain and I lost that shit like
Yesterday

Oh yesterday, it was yesterday
That my world crumbled down never let
In a better place
Yesterday, I remember yesterday
The angels said farewell and the demons
Filled my head again
I know, I know
That I've been following the road that
Will take me from home
Now I show, I show
No signs of regret but I'm sick of putting
On this fucking show
