"This project is dedicated to everyone that I love. Elijah, we miss you, bro. Forever. Long live King Heaps. To my family and my friends. And my wife. I love you, baby. None of this is possible without you. I just wanna say, 'thank you.' And I hope y'all like it."

They knock me down
I get back up, been here before
But, the time has come
The devil's knocking at my door
Can't do it no more

I know you want me there
But I just gotta stay here and search the pain for a better way
I know you need me there
But I just gotta stay down

So, let me go and let me rot
This hollow world feels like all I've got
Yeah, let me go and let me walk
This place alone

Cause everything I needed wasn't quite what I thought it was Now everyday I'm bleeding til I'm dried up, dead and gone
Living clean, but all the issues are in me and not the substances I blame them on (That I blame them on)
Once you're a fiend, it's not the liquor in your veins, it's the demons in your heart that are wrong

I know you want me there
But I just gotta stay here and search the pain for a better way
I know you need me there
But I just gotta stay down

So, let me go and let me rot
This hollow world feels like all I've got
Yeah, let me go and let me walk
This place alone

So, let me go and let me rot
This hollow world feels like all I've got
Yeah, let me go and let me walk
This place alone

So, let me go and let me rot
This hollow world feels like all I've got
Yeah, let me go and let me walk

This place alone
