Spacey Jane

I know you're scared, well it's cold on the bathroom floor
I'm not looking for a way out just yet
Will you be there when I call for you through the door?
I'm not looking for a way out just yet

I've gotta tell my friends how I'm feeling
Let 'em know I'm sad when I see them

Honey, I've missed you
You're like sunshine in the winter
She said, "Darling, should I leave you?
It's the saddest that I've seen you"

Please pick up, I'm dying to tell someone
No one's heard me crying in so long
That's okay, my problems are not for them
And if you feel the same way I understand

I've gotta tell my friends how I'm feeling
Let 'em know I'm sad when I see them

Honey, I've missed you
You're like sunshine in the winter
She said, "Darling, should I leave you?
It's the saddest that I've seen you"
So I thought back to her sofa
When her head dreamed upon my shoulder
What I'd do just to hold her
To be happy to do over

Rest my head, I miss my mum
I didn't know love hit this hard
And on my bedroom floor
For you, I guess I'll feel it all

Honey, I've missed you
You're like sunshine in the winter
She said, "Darling, should I leave you?
It's the saddest that I've seen you"
So I thought back to her sofa
When her head dreamed upon my shoulder
What I'd do just to hold her
To be happy to do over
