Bob Hope, Bob Hope
Bob Hope, Bob Hope

There is granite, there is marble and steel
There are planets, there's the sun and the wheel
But the wheel can't make you feel like...

Bob Hope, Bob Hope

When you got 'em, you don't know what you got
When you lose 'em, you're not left with a lot
So it's time to, time to think about...

Bob Hope, Bob Hope
Bob Hope, Bob Hope

Lucy, Orson, and all the rest
The sun sets slowly in the West
Glad I've gotten that off my chest

Bob Hope, Bob Hope

'Tis a pity that we've nearly consumed
Every God, King, Queen, and President, too
Oh my God, Bob, what's it all come to?

Bob Hope, Bob Hope
Bob Hope, Bob Hope

Hope will last an eternity
It's been here before you and me
He's been here before you and me

Bob Hope, Bob Hope
Bob Hope, Bob Hope

There's the Ganges, the Tiber, and the Danube
And the Rockies, the Himalayas, too
But a mountain couldn't rise up to...

Bob Hope, Bob Hope

Hope's the biggest and Hope's the best
Hope's the thing that has stood the test
Glad I've gotten this off my chest

Bob Hope, Bob Hope
Bob Hope, Bob Hope
