

Upstaged

Sparks

Ladies and Gentlemen, please welcome Cardea and Baby Annette!

Sing, child, sing!

I ain't never been upstaged by nobody

I ain't never been upstaged by nobody

But this is just a different thing

Are my talents now so limiting

Or is this a child who comes to us from God above us

If angels could sing

They'd sing like she sings

I pray she's for real

Look at the look in those tiny eyes

I ain't never been upstaged by nobody

I ain't never been upstaged by nobody

I should resent her, but I can't

She effects like an intoxicant

And our heads are spinning and we can't believe what we're hearing

I don't deserve to share the stage

And I don't mind that she's all the rage

So surreal when you consider her age

Are we all dreaming?
