Sparta

Hell comes from the highest order
You tripped and you can't be bothered
Oh well, forget the past it's come again

Well played as the king of martyrs
Revenge on those who doubted
Oh well, forget the past it's come again

You've got nowhere left to go
And you can't go back and change the past now can you
And you can't go back and change the past now can you

Night fall, sun has gone
You don't know who you've become
Oh well, forget the past it's come again
There's nothing left to lose
Darkness has blinded you
Oh well, forget the past it's come again

And you can't go back and change the past now can you
And you can't go back and change the past now can you
