If it hasn't already my time's gonna come
I'm gonna get old and weird
Without you here
Without you

And if she's not the one I know there'll be a one
Who makes you say
When you wake up together everyday
Let's move away and be the only

Once there was a time I thought we'd take a train
Across the country
Never see our friends again
You're the best one that I'd have
And be the only friend

A little after you said I deserved it all
But honey I've got the house
I've got the dog
And I'm waking up mornings
And showing up on time for my job
So don't bother to call me
