

Invisible Enemy

Spirit Adrift

You've been hiding in plain sight
Always rotten deep inside
We've been ready for a fight
This is the turning of the tide

The world will see your face
There will be no escape
We'll all forget your name
There will be no escape

We won't listen to your lie
Nowhere left for you to hide
We are ready to arise
You know now you have to die

The world will see your face
There will be no escape
We'll all forget your name
There will be no escape

And all along it was you
This living hell you put us through
And we will never be the same
Forever horrified at what we all became
