

Future

Split Chain

I'm fading out of you not around
I don't blame you now, I'm safe and sound

Safe and sound

You're seeking distance to get you out
Your doubts and fears will take you down
Down and down, you make yourself look so proud
Around, around, your fate will see you drown

It's better with time, and you're right, it still shines
We're getting out again around, around
We're getting out again around

It's better now you're not in there

Your head is shut all of the way
It's too much for me to say
The regret won't go away, away

It's better with time, and you're right, it still shines
We're getting out again around, around
We're getting out again around

Better with everything
