Split Enz

I'll stand up and fight
For what I believe
No rest for the wicked
No rest for me

Hard work is the only answer
To a hard life full of no good
She lives in a big white house in the wood
I'm going to see her it's understood

We'll sit before the open fire
And watch the past all burn away
We'll eat and drink and make merry
And our hearts will say

Better days are coming
Afraid of nothing
It's there for the asking won't you
Come in, get in, we can sit in

There's more than enough for you and me
It's time for tea
It's time for home comforts
Give me those home comforts
I need those home comforts
Give me those home comforts

Give me those home comforts
I need those home comforts
Give me those home comforts
I need those home comforts

And so I go see her when I feel low
We're very good friends as far as I know
Take a walk in the sun-dappled orchard
Take lunch on the lawn
I feel at home
Don't feel alone
And I don't feel so forlorn

Better days are coming
Afraid of nothing
It's there for the asking won't ya
Come in, get in, we can sit in

There's more than enough for you and me
It's time for tea
It's time for home comforts
Home comforts
Home comforts
Give me those home comforts
Home comforts
Give me those home comforts
Home comforts
Give me those home comforts
