

Dying Without You

Spoken

I am the king of complecation
But I will call this home
I have lost control
I've lost control
There is no need for conversation
Cause I can't find the words
Now my knees are in the dirt

And I'm waiting

Say my name and I will run to you
I fall into you
I do blame and now I know it's true
I'm dying without you

I walked upon the path of shadows
Where the light from this world
Fells to kind away home
And I was not alone
I held the hand
Of all creation

Say my name and I will run to you
I fall into you
I do blame and now I know it's true
I'm dying without you

Say my name and I will run to you
I fall into you
I do blame and now I know it's true
I'm dying without you

Say my name and I will run to you
I fall into you
Say my name and I will run to you
I fall into you
I do blame and now I know it's true
I'm dying without you
