

Falling Apart

Spoken

Can you tell me who you are?
Cause you're never here
And I can't tell anymore
I'm not the voice inside your head
I'm not the bruise upon your heart
The only thing I'm asking for is to be a part of your world
Let me be a part of your world, oh oh
Let me be a part of your world, oh oh, oh oh

You wear your pain, you wear it well
So deep inside, no one can tell
That you are falling apart

You wear your pain, you wear it well
So deep inside, no one can tell
That you are falling apart
So, I will be here for you

I'll never know the darkest part of you
You falling apart
I'll be the one that will forgive
When you can forgive your self
I'll be the rock that you can crash upon
Let me be a part of your world, oh oh
Let me be a part of your world, oh oh

Let me be a part of your world, oh oh

Let me be a part of your world

You wear your pain, you wear it well
So deep inside, no one can tell

That you are falling apart
You wear your pain, you wear it well
So deep inside, no one can tell
That you are falling apart
So, i'll be here for you
I never know the darkest part of you
you are falling apart
Together we will take on the world
Together we will taken on the world
You wear the pain, you wear it well
So deep inside, no one can tell
That you are falling apart
You wear the pain, you wear it well
So deep inside no one can tell
That you are falling apart
So, i'll be here for you
i'll never know the darkest part of you
You falling apart
You falling apart
You falling apart
