

Future

Spoken

All that I was
All that I'd become Wasn't enough
To keep me from running
Where could I go
Without you by my side
I was looking for you
I kept my eyes open
Hoping to find
You'd never stopped searching
Praying that you
Would somehow hear my cry

Can you hear me now
I'm crying out to you
Can you hear me now
Can you hear me now
I'm screaming out for you
Can you hear me now
Can you hear me now
I'm crying out to you
Can you hear me now
Can you hear me now
I'm screaming out for you
Can you hear me now

I was hoping to hear you speak to the shadows
Waiting to feel the healing of every fragment
Of the man that I'd become
I can't wait anymore
I'm tired of my own lines
All I can do is run into your arms
And finally I will find rest

Can you hear me now
I'm crying out to you
Can you hear me now
Can you hear me now
I'm screaming out for you
Can you hear me now
Can you hear me now
I'm crying out to you
Can you hear me now
Can you hear me now
I'm screaming out for you
Can you hear me now

Can you hear me now
Can you hear me now

This is a calling to the only one
Who sets the world in motion
Who sees beyond the future

Who sets the world in motion
