

In The Dark

Spoken

I see your face in the crowd
I see your tears
You've lived your life
Looking through a window
You think to yourself does anyone else
Ever feel the way that I do
You tell yourself that nobody else
Could ever, ever understand you
Another face in the crowd
You're wasting away in your doubt
Thinking that you could never change
Say it say it say it
Say it out loud!

Do you believe surrender changes everything
There's more than pain in your heart
Do you believe surrender changes everything
There's more than life in the dark

Everywhere you turn
Reminds you of what you fear
The weight of all the world
Is on your shoulders here
Say it
Out loud
Say it say it say it
Say it out loud!

Do you believe surrender changes everything
There's more than pain in your heart
Do you believe surrender changes everything
There's more than life in the dark

There's more than pain in your heart
There's more than life in the dark
Do you believe
Surrender changes everything

Say it say it say it!
Say it out loud!
Say it say it say it!
Say it out loud!
Say it say it say it!
Say it out loud!
Say it say it say it!
Say it out loud!

Do you believe surrender changes everything
There's more than pain in your heart
Do you believe surrender changes everything
There's more than life in the dark
