

Stronger

Spoken

I thought I knew it all
But it turns out I was wrong
Had it figured out
Thought I was where I belong

It took a while to see
I lost a part of my life
But what is left of me
Will never give up the fight

I was lost
Alone on the ocean
I was drowning beneath the waves
Your love, called me from the water
You are the miracle that made a way

(Nobody said this was gonna be easy)
(Nobody said I would be this scarred)

Sometimes you hurt so long
You don't even notice the pain is gone
This world has left you alone

You can break this
You can make it to a place where you are stronger
(Stronger)
Than you ever were before

I was the worst of my enemies
My choices led me to the grave
Refuse, to let my eyes see
That what I needed all along was grace

(Nobody said this was gonna be easy)
(Nobody said I would be scarred)

Sometimes you hurt so long
You don't even notice the pain is gone
This world has left you alone

You can break this
You can make it to a place where you are stronger
(Stronger)
Than you ever were before

(Than you ever were before)
(Ohhh)

Now I know that I was wrong
Thought I could fight this war alone
Now it's clear and I can see
The arrows that were meant for me

Now I know that I was wrong
Thought I could fight this war alone
Now it's clear and I can see
The future that belongs to me

Sometimes you hurt so long
You don't even notice the pain is gone
This world has left you alone

You can break this
You can make it to a place where you are stronger
(Stronger)
Than you ever were before
