

Surrender

Spoken

How many times must I watch your world fall apart?
Breaking the back of all that you are
And witness you all but fall apart
You're giving up your heart

Your lips are falling silent
Your words quiet and so cold
I can't hear you anymore
Your words are falling silent
You ask for all I can give you
For words that you ignore

Someday you'll open your eyes
Someday you'll wake up to find
Surrender
Surrender

Someday you'll open your eyes
Someday you'll wake up to find
Surrender (Surrender)
Surrender!

Surrounded by pride
They left you choking
You're waiting for something
But hold onto nothing
You give them your all
And they leave you wanting
This world that you love
Has left you with nothing at all

Your lips are falling silent
Your words quiet and so cold
I can't hear you anymore
Your words are falling silent
You ask for all I can give you
For words that you ignore

Someday you'll open your eyes
Someday you'll wake up to find
Surrender
Surrender

Someday you'll open your eyes
Someday you'll wake up to find
Surrender (Surrender)
Surrender!

You'll wake up to find surrender!
Oh, whoa!

It's waiting here for you!

Someday you'll open your eyes
Someday you'll wake up to find
Surrender!
Surrender!

Someday you'll open your eyes
Someday you'll wake up to find
Surrender (Surrender)
Surrender!
