

Before The End

Sponge

Shadows swim
Through our memory once bright as day
Through darkest nights
The one's we lost will light the way

Sadness comes
Like fading blue and orange sky
So, just don't miss that one last chance
To say goodbye, say goodbye

This is our life, through the hard times
Here's to the ones that lost their way
So, cry all your tears
Give all your love
Before the fall, before your end of days
This is our life, this is goodbye

Crushed by the sound
Of a distant yesterday
Lost echoes scream
Breaks through the ice that fills your veins

No looking back
Your footsteps fade upon a sandy shore
What would you give
For just one chance to get back home, you can get back home

This is our life, through the hard times
Here's to the ones that lost their way
So, cry all your tears
Give all your love
Before the fall, before your end of days

The December wind, kisses your skin
You'll never feel, so alive
Burn bright as the stars, everything dies
It's alright, before your

(Ooh, who, who...)

And this is our life, through the hard times
Here's to the ones that lost their way
So, cry all your tears
Give all your love
Before the fall, before your end of days

The December wind, kisses your skin
You'll never feel, so alive
Burn bright as the stars, everything dies

Everything...
