

Broken

Sponge

Goodbye, the past just seems so far away
Goodbye, watch all these memories fade
What I hold onto it ruins my soul
These things are a part of me, I can't let go

Can't cut crazy away
Can't cut crazy away
More broken than broken
More broken than broken

My eyes see more of the past everyday
And time, passes me on to the grave
What once was a lifetime, has now turned to dust
There ain't no heaven for this body of rust

Can't cut crazy away
Can't cut crazy away
More broken than broken
More broken than broken
So perfectly broken
So perfectly broken

Can't fix up this pain, can't fix this disease
The wreckage in you, the wreckage in me

Goodbye, the past just seems so far away
Goodbye, watch all these memories fade
